TWO ENGINEERS.
METALIZED MILK.
THE FIVE GREATEST
THE PENDULUM SWINGS.
By Arthur Brisbane(Copyright 1930 By King Features

LOS ANGELES, CALIF., Feb. 17.—In his introduction to the writings of George Washington prepared for next year's 200th anniversary, President Hoover says Washington's engineering ability never has been fully appreciated. Washington's methods were surprisingly modern.

He reclaimed the dismal swamp in Virginia, was adviser and engineer on the Potomac and James river canal and first to advise a combined highway and waterway from the Atlantic coast to the Ohio river.

The president describes his predecessor as "the most potent human intellectual force in the firmament of American intellect."

George Washington was the first engineer to occupy the White House. President Hoover is the second.

A war with England interfered with Washington's engineering activities.

A war with bootleggers interferes with Hoover's.

Dr. McGeehee, chemist at Emory university, Atlanta, says copper and iron in milk will correct anemic conditions because those two metals, "taken in metalized milk, regenerate hemoglobin."

For a long time doctors have known that red blood corpuscles, consisting chiefly of iron, contain also a trace of copper.

This was long thought to be more or less accidental and unimportant. Now it is known to be necessary. Every plumber can tell the doctors what active results ensue when you put copper and iron together, as in attaching brass pipes to an iron furnace.

Washington reports that Lincoln's birthday was celebrated this year "more generally than ever." Great men are like great mountain peaks; the farther away you are, the more powerful they seem, little men and mountains having vanished.

The five greatest names in history—Aristotle, Archimedes, Michael Angelo, Newton and Shakespeare—are greater today than ever before. Which name, by the way, would you select as sixth?

Civilization expresses horror of religious fundamentalists in Turkey. They want their old Mohammedan religion restored, veils on women's faces, fez on men's heads.

Twenty-seven of these religious protesters were hanged recently and it is expected they will be hanged as rapidly as they are caught. Mustapha Kemal does not believe in half-way measures.

Thus the pendulum swings the other way. Old-fashioned religions have killed, burned, boiled, tortured hundreds of thousands under the most revolting conditions, as when Dr. Calvin in Switzerland. Damp wood was used to make the fire burn slowly and prolong the agony. Probably the plan miscarried, since damp wood, producing much smoke, would suffocate the victim before burning really began.

LOAN PROPOSAL IS THROWN INTO SENATE HOPPER

Veterans Bill Added To Crop Of Controversial Issues

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Into a senate already perturbed by a new crop of controversial issues and threats was thrown today the veterans loan bill, fresh from the house where it rolled up a tremendous majority to put it over despite warnings of a possible veto.

Republican Leader Watson wanted hearings on the measure in the finance committee. Bluntly, Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan, answered:

"We will have no hearings. They aren't necessary."

He predicted the bill would be through with preliminaries and up for senate action by Thursday at the latest.

House Vote Is 363 to 39

Supported by a powerful majority, the house passed the measure yesterday afternoon, 363 to 39. The 39 were all Republicans, staunch old-timers who stuck to the administration led by Majority Leader Tilson and Chairman Hawley of the ways and means committee. In all, 216 Republicans followed speaker Longworth to support the bill, joined by every Democrat present and the one farmer-labor member.

The measure was passed under a suspension of the rules which closed every avenue of delay or amendment. It was on the way to the senate within an hour after Speaker Longworth had it brought up. General opinion was that the senate's action would be proportionately as fast.

Gets Two-Thirds Vote

Supporters of the measure, sponsored by Representative Bacharach, Republican, New Jersey, were jubilant over recording a vote far in excess of the two-thirds required to override a veto. They were confident that if after passage by the senate, President Hoover added his formal disapproval to that already recorded by Secretary Mellon, they would pass it again. The adjusted compensation act of 1924—the present bill amends it to enlarge veterans' borrowing power to 50 per cent of the certificates' face value—was passed over President Hoover's veto, 313 to 78.

The measure reduces the rate of interest on such loans to 4 1/2 per cent compound annually and allows a veteran with a $1,000 certificate to borrow $500. Its financing provisions call for making the loans out of the $772,000,000 sinking fund for retirement of the certificates at their 1945 maturity, and also out of the $50,000,000 government life insurance fund. It adds authorization for any necessary appropriations.

RESUME WAGE SCALE PARLEY

Pottery Manufacturers and Union Representatives Will Discuss Variances Thursday

(By Brush-Moore Leased Wire)

EAST LIVERPOOL, Feb. 17.—The United States Pottery Association and the National Brotherhood of Operative Pottery will resume the general wage scale parley, which opened last December, at the William Penn hotel in Pittsburgh at 2 p. m. Thursday.

The parley will be devoted to consideration of variances in the scale for certain articles of pottery ware and will have no bearing on the agreement as a whole. It was arranged when the operative and employers agreed at the initial sessions to renew the general wage contract for an indefinite period.

President James M. Duffy will head the union's conferees, while J. M. Wells of Newell, W. Va., will be chairman of the manufacturers' committee.

LENT SERVICES TO BE HELD IN CHURCHES HERE

Special Observances To Be Launched On Ash Wednesday

LEADS TO EASTER EXERCISES APRIL 15

Meetings For Period Of Penitence Announced By Pastors

Salem churches will hold special services during the Lenten season, it was announced today.

Lent begins tomorrow with Ash Wednesday. This first day of Lent is so-called because of the custom of putting ashes upon the forehead to remind the penitent, "Dust thou art and unto dust thou shalt return."

Lent covers the 40 week-day period before Easter, when the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead is celebrated.

Herald's Spring's Advent

The word Lent, of Saxon origin, means spring, or the time when the days lengthen.

St. Paul's Catholic church will have three services each week, Rev. Fr. Maurice Casey said Tuesday. They will be on Wednesday, Friday and Sunday nights. Masses are said at 7 and 8 a. m. each day of the week.

Emmanuel Lutheran church will hold its Lenten services on Thursday and Sunday nights. The Thursday evening service will be in German, and that on Sunday evening in English.

The Church of Our Saviour (Episcopal) will have two services on Ash Wednesday, the first at 10 a. m. when Holy Communion will be celebrated, and prayer and address at 7:30 p. m.

Series of Sermons

Rev. George D. Keister, pastor of the Holy Trinity Lutheran church, announces the subjects for his sermons for each Wednesday evening during Lent. The general theme for the season is "Questions by the Way."

Wednesday evening he will speak on "The Question of Heartless Indifference." His other subjects are:

Feb. 23, "The Question as to Purpose;" March 1, "The Question as to Reality;" March 11, "The Question as to Preparation;" March 18, "Calvary—What Does It Mean?" March 25, "The Question That Every Person Must Answer."

The Methodist Episcopal church will conduct a visitation evangelistic campaign during Lent, in which the members will seek to interest those not affiliated with other church.

Plans for this visitation will be made at a meeting of the Personal Workers league and mid-week service Wednesday evening.

Captains for the five districts of the parish are: George Dressel, Alfred H. Stratton, J. E. Walton, Roy C. West and Lyman Goodballet.

Each captain is asked to have three teams of two each at the service Wednesday evening.

DAMASCUS MAN FACING CHARGE

Donald Handwork To Be Arraigned In Sebring Today

Salem police Monday turned Donald Handwork, 24, of near Damascus, over to Mahoning county authorities to face a charge of participating in the holdup of Howard Logue, Stark Electric station agent at Damascus.

Handwork is to be arraigned before I. G. Mushrush, Sebring justice of peace, today on the holdup charge.

Pleas of guilty were entered by Handwork's wife and John Cahill, 19, of Sebring, when arraigned before Justice Mushrush in Sebring Monday afternoon. Both were bound over to the Mahoning county grand jury.

Mrs. Handwork is said to have pleaded guilty to participating in the robbery. Cahill, according to police, admitted that he pulled a revolver on Logue when they robbed the street car station of $290 last December.

Mrs. Handwork and Cahill were released on $1,000 bond in Sebring yesterday. Last night they were rearrested in Alliance on charges of suspicion. They are now being held in Alliance city jail.

Pastor Stresses Need Of Church

Need of the church and its influence by all persons was made the basis of the sermon by Rev. W. Welsh of Columbus in services held at the Church of the Nazarene Monday night.

Evangelist Welsh used as the basis for his sermon the text, Proverbs 11:30, "He that winneth souls is wise."

Special music will feature tonight's service at the church.

GUERRA FAILS IN CABINET JOB

Threat Of Military Dictatorship Looms In Spain

(By Associated Press)

MADRID, Feb. 17.—A new political crisis, in which loomed the threat of a military dictatorship, was thrust upon Spain today with failure of Jose Antonio Sanchez Guerra to form a government on a basis of liberal constitutional revision.

Sanchez Guerra, designated by King Alfonso yesterday to get together a cabinet, went to the palace at noon today and informed the king he had been unable to secure the collaboration of the Republicans and Socialists, radical left groups, and would have to renounce his task.

He advised the king to call upon Melquiades Alvarez, another advocate of constitutional revision to limit the powers of the throne, and leader of the "reformist" group of the Spanish conservative party. Alvarez, if anything, would be regarded more radical than Sanchez Guerra, whose designation by the king yesterday was regarded by monarchists as a surrender to the extremists.

The development, which came with astonishing suddenness, threw the political situation into the utmost confusion and made developments extremely uncertain. Madrid was quiet, but alive with rumors of military action, none of which could be confirmed.

WILL AID COUNCIL IN FUND PROJECT

Erie Youth In Antarctic Region For Period Of 22 Months

Paul A. Siple, 22-year-old Erie, Pa., youth, who gained fame as a member of Commander Richard E. Byrd's Antarctic expedition for 22 months, will appear as speaker at an entertainment arranged by the Salem Boy Scout council at the First Methodist church on Friday, February 27.

Seek Scout Funds

The affair is being sponsored by the Scout council as a medium for raising funds to enable Salem scout troops to continue various activities planned this year. Tickets will be sold by scouts. County Executive C. R. Felton announced today.

Siple is a native Oklahian, having been born in Montpelier. At the age of 12 he became interested in scouting and rapidly passed all requirements to earn rating as an Eagle Scout. Today he possesses 60 merit badges. He graduated from Erie High school and for a year was employed as assistant draftsman in the state highway department in Erie, later enrolling in Allegheny college, Meadville, Pa.

Submits His Name

Requested by Erie friends to enter his application with Commander Byrd after it was learned the explorer planned to take an Eagle Scout on his expedition in the north country, Siple submitted his name and out of thousands of applications, was selected as one of six youths filling requirements for the honor. The six boys were sent to New York City where they submitted to final tests, Siple being selected.

Try To Revive Old Claims

Letters advising Ross Hughes, industrial relations department official, of the attempts of the same attorney to revive old claims in an effort to get more compensation were also read to the committee. The letters were received. It was stated, from Barrett, Fred Morris of Toledo, and other heads of branch offices.

At Gouster, the committee was informed, the attorneys demanded 30 per cent of what had already been received and 30 per cent of anything additional received for reviving old claims, it was alleged.

"Often the claimant receives almost nothing in this type of arrangement," Hedges said.

EDUCATORS ARE GIVEN VIEWS OF SOUTH AMERICA

Dr. Guy E. Byers Speaker At Midwinter Meeting Of Schoolmasters

Life in South America was graphically presented before members of the Columbiana County Schoolmasters association at their annual meeting here today.

In an illustrated presentation, Dr. Guy E. Byers, of the University of Chicago, spoke of his experiences in South America during the trip being made in an effort to trace the source of the Orinoco river, a stream 1,550 miles long and which extends from the southern part of Venezuela to the Atlantic ocean.

The speaker explained that despite the fact that the party was unable to trace the source of the Orinoco, vast and important knowledge concerning life on the Amazon river was discovered. Wild tribes of Indians prevented them from penetrating far down the stream where they expected to find the river's source.

Interesting studies of biology and geology were presented to the schoolmasters.

MURDER PROBE MARKING TIME

Authorities Fight To Take "Hymie" Martin To Cleveland

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 17.—Investigation of the slaying of former Councilman William E. Potter marked time today while authorities prepared for the second round in their fight to return "Pittsburgh Hymie" Martin to Cleveland on a first degree murder charge.

Extradition of Martin, who is held at Pittsburgh, was recommended by Deputy General J. W. Shull of Pennsylvania after a hearing at Harrisburg yesterday, and officials said there was little doubt that Governor Gifford Pinchot would sign the papers today.

The next legal tussle will come at Pittsburgh tomorrow when Martin is given a hearing on his application for a writ of habeas corpus. Martin's counsel seek his release on the ground he was arrested improperly and was denied the right to consult with his attorney.

Red Cross' Job

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Feb. 17.—Now here is something you mustn't get wrong. The government Saturday passed a bill to appropriate twenty million as a loan to farmers in the drought on security.

Now the man and his family that are hungry down there have no security. If he had any security he wouldn't be hungry; he would have already put it up.

So this loan has not relieved the people that the Red Cross has been feeding at all. They have got to go on being fed by the Red Cross, so you towns that have been so slow in raising your quota, because you have been waiting on the government to see what they would do, now you see, so get busy and raise it.

They have got to be fed till a new crop is raised, and when they raise it, the last one is still in this country. It hasn't been sold yet.

But no town can possibly have an excuse now for not doing their part.

Five New Signals To Be Placed In Downtown Streets

COST ESTIMATED AT $3,400 FIGURE

Present Lamps Will Be Taken To Other Intersections

Bids from contractors for the installation of new traffic lights at street intersections will be opened in the office of Safety Director John R. Kerr at noon on Friday, February 27.

The city's entire traffic light system will be improved, with the erection of five new lights at downtown intersections, and seven lights at various other intersections in residential districts, Kerr announced today. Estimated cost of the improvements is $3,400.

Downtown Lights

Signal lights will be placed at the following downtown intersections:

State st and Ellsworth aves; Broadway and East State; Lundy and East State; Lincoln and East State and South Broadway and East Pershing.

The five downtown signals will be operated by one central control box located in firemen's headquarters at city hall. Adjustments will be made, however, to maintain a progressive movement of traffic through the downtown district, Kerr said.

At the request of the police department, a light will also be erected at the intersection of West State and the North Benon rd where traffic is heavy during summer months. Another light will be installed at South Howard ave and West Wilson st.

Will Transfer Present Lights

Council proposes that the four traffic signals now in use in the downtown area be placed at the following intersections:

Pershing and South Ellsworth; South Lincoln and Franklin, Ohio and East State, and Union and East State.

It is planned that lights at Lincoln and Franklin and at Pershing-South Ellsworth shall be operated with individual controls while a single control box will operate the other two signals.

A study is being made of the need of lights at these places by Kerr in conjunction with Service Director Clyde R. Reich. A plan forwarded by council that lights at Ohio and East State and at Union-East State be operated only during hours when children are at school or going to and from schools, is also being considered.

Work will start on the improvements as soon as possible following the ward of the contract to the accepted bidder by the board of control.

QUEEN OF THE SAWDUST RING

The focal point of grief over Lillian Leitzel's untimely death is among circus people. Outside their limited circle, however, thousands mourn sincerely the loss of show life's most glamorous figure.

The "big" circus had many thrills—almost too many it seemed sometimes. But when the dapper gentlemen in the tall, silk hat stepped to the center of the specialty ring and removed his hat with an extra flourish it was the signal that the supreme thrill was about to be announced. Lily Leitzel was going to do her famous "dislocation" stunt.

Before you knew it she was there before your very eyes—the charming performer that circus people honored as their queen—Lily Leitzel, who traveled with her own maids and car and could do something that no one else ever had done before.

Attendees pulled a cord and from a silken bag high in the air a snowy white rope uncoiled. Lily tested it with her weight and slowly ascended, undulating in slow circles around the strand with an ease that left spectators breathless. "Tiny" they called her but the perfection of her muscular coordination and development was uncanny.

High up on the rope she stopped, hanging by one arm. With her free hand she secured her wrists to an iron ring. Slowly she swung. Then again, and again and finally with an extra twist she threw herself two-thirds of the way around the axis of her shoulder—a feat that meant partial dislocation at least of the shoulder joint and was made possible only by almost superhuman muscular development. How many times did she repeat it? Did anyone ever count? Could anyone overcome his amazement enough to be sure whether it was 15, 20, 30 or 40? Lily Leitzel had been warned that if she persisted in giving the public her utmost that she would lose the use of her arm, but she went on. She died, as so many good trouper die, in the harness.

Queen of the sawdust ring. Let her memory live long as a token that the world does not forget easily those who make its heart beat faster.

A NATIONAL PROJECT
America has huge cities, cultured cities, beautiful cities, and all other kinds. The national ambition, as it appears, to make Washington, D. C., the finest city, combining all good civic qualities, naturally enlists support, therefore. In Washington there is an opportunity to accomplish what is impossible in most cities, to build according to plan rather than necessity. Civic idealists everywhere would find it easy to take pride in a perfect federal city.

Running clear, through an often badly muddled political stream, is a strong current of sentiment to build Washington beautifully and well. One commentator remarks aptly that "between man and nature, politician and city planner, residents and visitors, there seems to be something like a conspiracy to make the city the most beautiful in America." The results are encouraging, and the present interest in further improvement shows that work has only begun.

There are discouragements, too. Real estate operators continue to be more interested in sub-divisions than in a beautiful capital city. Commercial enterprises have to be restricted constantly lest they detract from the effect of beauty with cheap buildings. There are, of course, few complications arising from factories. On the whole the discouragements arise from negligence and unsympathetic attitudes, which are but a part of the average city's worries.

America places confidence in the "conspiracy" to make Washington the nation's most beautiful city. It believes that it should be so and does not question the ability of the proper people to carry on the work. The government, fortunately, is able to command the services of men of the highest standing in the professional world of art, landscape and planning to carry through the project. Beautifying Washington is a national project.

What Others Say

CHANCELLOR BRUENING WINS

Chancellor Bruening's victory over the extremists in the German reichstag is one of the most hopeful signs that have come out of Europe recently. Compelled to carry a tremendous burden of war debt, which has tended to depress business and make her people restless, Germany is still regarded as the bulwark of Western Europe against communism. Consequently it is reassuring to find the moderate parties in the reichstag uniting to protest a cabinet in which many of them are not represented. The government was attacked on both flanks, with the fanatical order which creates and sustains extreme partisanship. The center held. The anti-republican factions were routed.

After the September elections, at which Adolf Hitler and his National Socialists increased their representation to 107 seats and the Communists rose to 76 seats, a wave of apprehension swept across Europe. Would these extreme parties, with the assistance of 41 Hugenberg Nationalists, seize the reins, tear up the treaty of Versailles and precipitate another European war? This feeling was most pronounced in France. Those who entertained it placed too little confidence into the firmness of the president of the reich and his chancellor and in the mental and fundamental soundness of the majority of the German people. While French cabinets have fallen, Chancellor Bruening's has outlived the worst storms that the Communists and Nationalists have been so far able to lash their partisans into.

The threat of the National Socialists to set up a separate parliament at Weimar need not be taken very seriously. Their leader burned his fingers in one putsch and is not likely to start another. They are more likely to continue in the reichstag the obstructive tactics that prevailed in our house of representatives until Speaker Reed put down his considerable feat and which will survive in Washington only in the senate. They can make themselves obnoxious, with respect to both domestic and foreign policies. They can seriously hamper the orderly process of legislation. As long as the moderates work together the extremists will butt their heads into a stone wall. The center parties may fight among themselves over minor issues, but when it becomes a choice between the republic on the one hand, and the monarchy or a proletarian state on the other, they have shown that they can bury the hatchet in a common enemy. —Detroit Free Press.

The Stars Say

For Wednesday, February 18, The focal forces for this day operate to bring lively and interesting conditions, with much stirring about change and fresh opportunities for advancement and growth. It is a time for pushing for favors and toward the goal of the ambitions but with restraint and sagacity. A tendency to rash and impetuous moves would be detrimental. Also it is suggested that precaution be exercised against fraud and duplicity as well as subtle dangers.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for an active and eventful year, with fresh opportunities for advancement and prosperity, but they are enjoined to be on guard against duplicity, fraud and secret machinations and also to refrain from impetuous actions and words. Good judgment and calm methods should make for gratifying success and happy fruitings. A child born on this day may be well equipped for a successful and progressive career, but should be schooled in calm behavior and self-restraint as well as to be alert for subtle enemies.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Sem, celebrated Parisian caricaturist, has been a winter visitor to New York, following the trek of his auditor friend Paul Morand. At 66, Sem is one of the figures to Americans visiting the French capital. Yet he speaks no English.

Where Americans group—on the Cambon side of the Rue, Harry's bar, Zella, Chez Florence, Louisa or where-not—Sem usually drops in. He is known by no other name. If he has another not even intimates know it. His drawings are a national talent, like jazz in America.

In a manner, his caricatures suggest the unlovely etchings of Hogarth—raw and searing with realism. He has constantly shot arrows of contempt, although in later years triumphed somewhat over early bitterness. "After all," he philosophized, "one desires friends most of all."

Many rare fights with those Sem offended enlivened the boulevard. There was that memorable luncheon at Ciro's when Fanny Ward walked over to Sem's table and dashed wine in his face. That day Sem's year book appeared, limning Miss Ward in comic strokes.

His limnings of Paris familiars causes him to retreat to the Britany countryside annually until the future dies. Sem had never been to New York or America before, and had no preconceived notions. He refused to read about the metropolis, preferring to form his own opinions.

He came to Paris from Marseilles, a funny little man past 40. His chance was accidental. He took a cartoon to Henri Letellier, publisher of Le Journal and one of the greatest sportsmen in France. He waited awhile, left his drawing and in sudden flight departed.

Letellier happened to glance at it among other things on his desk, rang for a secretary and sent him flying after Sem. The caricaturist was two blocks away. He had decided not to return but take an afternoon train for Marseilles.

Two of Sem's American friends have appeared at movie desks in Hollywood—Basil Woon and Jed Kiley. For ten years they were familiar in that pompous puritan circle the Place Vendôme. Indeed, Hollywood has its "Paris colony," which includes Leks Moran, Dorothy Mackail, Wynn Holcomb, Claire Luce, Tom Barry and Lynn Stirling.

Despite the failure of her black-face play, no actress this winter drew such a brilliant first night audience as Ethel Barrymore. The event proved again the power of the Barrymore name. It was, too, probably the only premiere of the season to collect 11 monocle wearers.

What was once known as "the heel" in the Broadway patter is now "a wet smack."

Effective realism in a Rialto farce. A sudden denouement of a sugar daddy in a courtroom scene. His pallid face slowly colors into apple-pie purple. The trick is performed wearing a high collar against which he chokes himself.

Fugitive romance is sought in odd nooks around New York. In a lonely reach of Central Park the other frosty night a wee-begone young man sat in a bench gazing at the sky. Charles Hanson Towne, somewhat a poet himself passed by. "A beautiful night," he observed. "But not a star," sighed the youth, to hang a dream upon."

She was a lithe, exquisite creature with a pantherine walk—you know, the sort in whose hands you feel you would be so much wax—and all eyes turned upon her entrance into the spacious room. There was a jumbled vision of proud shoulders, mocking chin and long lashes. Someone broke the silence with: "You look superb, Anita!" In a rasping voice she countered: "All right, but what do you do around here to get a drink—sing or dance?" New York!

Disillusioning telegram: "That girl whose prematurely white hair recently excited you is a walking ad for a hair dresser. It's a transformation." Any day I expect to see the stork business is phony.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

AVOID "SNEEZERS"

We all sneeze and we all cough. Yet how many of us cover our mouths when we do this? Neglect of this little precaution is the main cause for most of the colds and winter ailments so common in this country.

Do you know that among every 1,000 men employed, there are more than 100 cases of disability every year? This illness, whatever it is, lasts anywhere from one to eight days.

More than half of this number are disabled because of diseases in the breathing organs. Among them are included colds, bronchitis, grippe, influenza and pneumonia.

Diseases of this type are spread by the spraying of the secretions of the nose and throat in coughing, sneezing, spitting and talking. People who are tired and are in rundown condition, when exposed to such dangers, quickly contract the infection. In their turn, they spread it to others.

Any person who has a cold and is in any way lowered in health should keep away from crowds. Children who have colds should be kept home and not be permitted to attend classes. By sneezing on this rule, not only will they get well quicker, but they will not be a source of danger to other children.

Sneezing or coughing in such a way as to spread infection should be avoided. Always attempt to catch a sneeze in a handkerchief. If you have a cold do not talk into people's faces. By no means go close to a child if you have a cold.

The common habit of embracing and kissing children has led to many infections that could have been prevented. This applies to so serious a disease as tuberculosis, too.

In spite of the numerous signs issued by local health bureaus, spitting is still a common vice in this country, and it is most dangerous to health.

We are too much concerned with the cure of these ailments rather than with their cause and possible prevention. We recall the well-known adage, "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." Yet in this matter very few of us apply that wise rule.

Proper regard to the dangers from sneezing, coughing, spitting and talking will do much to better the public health. The diseases I have mentioned today are preventable. They cannot be prevented until the public will observe the simple rules of hygiene.

Answers to Health Queries

MRS. D. W. Q.—Will you tell me why legs appear to swell during the daytime while at night they go down? What treatment would be helpful in this case?

A.—This condition may be caused by a possible heart or kidney disturbance, although it is also possible that it is due to overexertion, such as long standing, walking, etc. Have an examination so that definite advice and treatment can be outlined.

MRS. B. F. R. Q.—I have a rash on my arms, shoulders and back which is slightly itchy, occurring in light pink patches. When I become tanned in the summer, these patches remain light and are very noticeable. What would you advise? A.—This may be due to a form of eczema, although it would be difficult to make a definite diagnosis without seeing the existing condition. Why not see a skin specialist for examination and advice?

A. D. Q.—What can I do for a pain in the area of the right lung? This has persisted for four years and seems relieved when I am careful of my diet and elimination. I have been examined but the doctor pays little attention to the pain, saying it is probably due to gas. Is this likely? I am extremely nervous and high-pitched. Also troubled with constipation.

A.—The pain is very likely due to gases—judging from the description of your symptoms. Eat more laxative food, take plenty of exercise in the open and keep your bowels open. For further particulars send a self addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question. An X-ray examination will definitely rule out the possibility of a lung condition.

H. N. Q.—How can I gain weight?
2.—Do you think cod liver oil will help one to gain?

A.—Eat plenty of good nourishing food, including milk, eggs, fresh fruits and vegetables, cereals and plenty of water between meals. Sleep as many hours as possible. Avoid worry and overfatigue.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

Just a Dash of Cream
To improve a number of plain foods, add a spoonful or two of cream. Not whipped cream—just plain cream and not too much of it. Just enough to moisten the food or to bring out a delicate flavor.

For example, in serving vegetables cooked the waterless way. Of course, all vegetables should be cooked with the minimum amount of water or better still steamed with no water at all touching food. When tender, remove to a hot platter, add seasoning and pour over just enough plain cream, slightly warmed to moisten.

Cooked peas or carrots, limas, cauliflower, Brussels sprouts, shredded cooked cabbage are a few of the vegetables that can be improved by adding plain cream. (Not only does it taste better than the usual white sauce, but it takes much less time to prepare. There is no extra cooking, no anxiety over the sauce turning out smooth.)

Thick cream may also be added to salad dressing at the last moment just before serving in the proportion of about half cream to a cup of French maitre d'hotel. The cream should be fairly thick but not whipped—merely beaten into the dressing. Especially good for chicken salad.

In preparing fillings for sandwiches—crushed hard cooked egg, cream cheese, fish, etc., if the ingredients are not smooth enough for spreading they may be softened to a paste by adding a little thick sweet cream. Many prefer it to mayonnaise and it will form the proper texture but won't impart a dominating flavor as some of the sharp dressings will. Similarly, a little thick cream may be added to any mixture of dried vegetables to be used for stuffing in a cold salad.

And a half cupful of cream added to mushrooms cooked in butter brings out the mushroom flavor most deliciously.

BANDIT ESCAPES IN GUN BATTLE

Holds Up Cleveland Drug Store; Appropriates Two Automobiles

(By International News Service) CLEVELAND, Feb. 17.—A daring gunman, who held up a drug store, appropriated two automobiles at the point of a pistol and engaged a policeman in a gun battle was the object of a citywide police search today.

After robbing Angelo Serra of $65 in his drug store, the bandit commandeered an automobile owned by Mrs. Florence Duffy and attempted to elude Patrolman Michael Wallace who took up the chase in his own machine.

Robber and policeman exchanged shots as the chase continued through East Cleveland streets until the gas tank of the bandit's car finally was drained after it had figured in a collision with another machine and the patrolman had punctured a rear tire with a revolver bullet.

Jumping from his disabled car, the bandit was knocked over by the bumper of Wallace's machine, but recovered from his fall in time to appropriate another machine, which later was found abandoned in a vacant lot. The robber is believed to have been wounded in the gunfire.

Mother of 26 Babes Leads Stork for Prize

Satirical Bequest of Toronto Millionaire Donating Half a Million to Mother Giving Birth to Greatest Number of Children During Ten Years After His Death, Gives Added Incentive to Dominion Birth Rate.

Mrs. CATHERINE PIZZI, CHARLES V. MILLAR, and Mrs. LEWIS CROSS.

NEW YORK — Statisticians, whose job it is to keep track of such things, tell us that the birth rate of the United States is rapidly declining, and that something should be done about it.

Well, if it is any news to the alarmists, something is being done. Modern Baton Rouge, La., boasts a Baby-of-the-Month Club. The first child born in that progressive community every month receives gifts from the merchants ranging from thermometers for the baby's bath to flowers for the mother.

But if some of our patriotic millionaires would follow the example of Charles Vance Millar, of East Cambridge, Mass., without the incentive of half-a-million dollars, brought 20 children into the world. She believes that the wife who sees nothing but poverty in large families is missing the real joy of motherhood and says that it is her intention to have as many as she can. Another proud mother of 20 children is Mrs. Lewis Cross of Fitchburg, Mass., who is King's Counsel, of Toronto, Canada, there never would be cause for a wall about declining birth rate.

Mr. Millar, who died October 1927, had the reputation of being an incorrigible practical joker. People who knew him are very fond of relating his many and various escapades, but the greatest joke he ever played was the will he left when he died, and which, despite its eccentric provisions, is declared as sound as a dollar.

As we are only concerned with birth rate we will confine ourselves to the cause of this will dealing with that subject. In short, it states that $500,000 shall be set aside and in ten years after the death of testator awarded to the woman who has given birth to the greatest number of children in Toronto during that time.

Of course this was regarded as just another of Mr. Millar's jokes, but such a sum of money is worth competing for, joke or no joke, and the race is on in Toronto. The leader in the novel competition so far is Mrs. Florence Brown, a slender blonde housewife of 42 who has been married 22 years and given birth to 26 children, six of which were born within the period stipulated by the Millar will.

Mrs. Brown takes pride in the fact that all her babies were single births. Mrs. Brown proposes to buy a farm if the prize should come her way, as she is of the opinion that the country is the only place in which to rear a family.

One lady who occupies second place in this strange competition is Mrs. Grace Bagnato, a Toronto born Canadian Italian. She was married at 13 and has borne 20 babies, 11 of whom are still alive. She is 37 and a grandmother.

To return to our own U. S., where such a prize offered here the stork would be compelled to take on more help. Mrs. Catherine Pizzi, of East Cambridge, Mass., without the incentive of half-a-million dollars, brought 20 children into the world. She believes that the wife who sees nothing but poverty in large families is missing the real joy of motherhood and says that it is her intention to have as many as she can. Another proud mother of 20 children is Mrs. Lewis Cross of Fitchburg, Mass., who is King's Counsel, of Toronto, Canada, there never would be cause for a wall about declining birth rate.

In sharp contrast to the foregoing cases is that of Mrs. Ethel Cromwell, of Bridgeport, Conn., who had her husband arrested because he wanted more babies. Mrs. Cromwell gave birth to 13 children in ten years, but only four lived.

A recent judgment by the supreme court is of interest here, inasmuch as it sustained the right of Mrs. Marion Kahn, of Brooklyn, N. Y., whose refusal to bear children was made the grounds for an annulment suit by her husband.

TODAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

Amos 'n' Andy are being deluged with a flood of pencils.

The downpour of writing equipment apparently is due to the difficulty the boys have in keeping pencils handy in their radio skits. The other night Andy remarked that he had to use a lead pencil to do some figuring.

About one out of every ten listeners decided to help him out. So pencils started speeding through the mails toward Chicago where Amos 'n' Andy put on their skits for the WJZ network.

Mary Charles, the CBS singer, opens a different type of song record via WABC and stations next Friday. It is to consist of a dramatization leading up to a song.

The 15-minute program will be divided into two parts a song concluding each. The time is to be 9 p. m.

MARKETS

SELLING HALTS SHARE ADVANCE

Loew's Off 2; Bethlehem Gains 3; Vanadium Up 7 Points

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Bullish operation in the share market attained violent proportions today, but were unable to overcome the effects of selling during the early hours of trading.

An upturn at the opening was largely lost when Loew's dropped 2 points in selling, reflecting disappointment over payment of only the regular dividend. A drive in mid-morning sent several of the erratic issues up 3 to 7, and steel made good progress, but fresh irregularity dropped cut around midday.

U. S. Steel encountered selling after moving up nearly 2 points. Bethlehem, however, made an extreme gain of nearly 25 cents, shot up 6 and fell back 8 from the top. Case sold up 5, then lost some of its gain.

Vanadium was a high flier among the volatile issues, getting up 7 points.

SALEM LOOKS AHEAD
WELLSVILLE DOES IT

Furnace Plays Champs In Opener; Florists To Meet Grove Combine

Ravenna High did Alliance scholastic cagers a good turn last Saturday night by trouncing Salem, 23-20, to furnish Northeastern Ohio fandom another big surprise. At the same time Ravenna was pulling this dope upset and there by clinching for Alliance championship honors in the district "Big Ten" circuit, Wellsville handed East Palestine a 20-12 setback at Wellsville and now there is every chance that Salem will annex its sixth county tossing championship in a row.

In trouncing East Palestine Wellsville did more than place the Quakers back into the county titular race—they issued a threat that Salem basketers must recognize that the Tigers plainly showed that they will form a stiff opponent for the Quaker quintet when the two teams meet at Wellsville Saturday night. Wellsville has lost only two games this year and neither defeat came on its home court. On the other hand, the one team which trimmed the Tigers away from home—it was East Liverpool—was victimized when playing at Wellsville.

Salem's tossers know what they will be up against at Wellsville. Playing on a miniature-size court, the Tigers will have every advantage and history of relations between the two schools plainly shows the latter's strength when performing on its home hardwoods. Wellsville did Salem a good turn in upsetting Palestine so decisively. Red and Black players must take care that the Tigers do not accomplish a similar feat for Palestine by trimming them when they go to Wellsville Saturday.

After this week Salem High can look ahead to the district tournament as its next scene of competition. Only three more games, including one this week, remain on the Stenemen's schedule, and on March 6-7 the team will be involved in the annual contest with other Northeastern Ohioans or district titular honors.

Eight weeks ago Salem High was deemed as one of the leaders in the section—today, with all of the tourney's entries having sustained defeat in sectional competition, the outcome is more complex than ever to dopesters. Seeding of teams will be difficult with Youngstown South looming as the principal aggregation according to season's records. Teams that must be watched in the tourney are: South, Campbell Memorial, East Palestine, Sinters, Breckfield and Girard. There will be none that hasn't a chance to pull through. Tournaments are funny that way.

Let's look at 1930 records of Salem teams and compare them to this year:

One year ago Salem High's varsity had won 19 games out of 18, scoring 511 points to 452 by opponents. Today the Quakers have played 18 games, won 12 and lost six, and in scoring hold a 572-to-476 edge over opponents. No so much difference—there is an indication of a stronger offense and weaker defense and that's just what the team seems to be at present.

The reserve—one year ago—played 13 games, won 10, lost 3; scored 325 points to 212 by opponents. This year—have played 14 games, won 14, lost 0 and have outscored opponents 475 points to 220. Quite a contrast.

The girls—at this time in 1931 had won 6, lost 5 and tied 1 game; scored 314 points against 293. This year—played 11 games, won 5, lost 6; scored 233 to 263. Again there is a difference.

READ THE WANT COLUMN

Two games that will go far in deciding Salem's 1931 Class A basketball champion will be played at the Memorial building gymnasium tonight, the Golden Eagle battling the improved and strengthened Electric Furnace team in the first contest at 7:30 while at 8:30 the R. E. Grove Electric company quintet opposes the league-leading Miller-Grove to Furnace.

With each of three teams involved in a stiff contest for titular honors, tonight's contests are regarded as all important as losing teams will in all probability be eliminated from the ranks of championship contenders. The Florists now top the circuit with two straight wins but there is every chance that either the Grovesmen or Furnace-makers will pull through with the year's laurels.

Golden Eagle Favored
The Golden Eagle, slight favorites to trim the furnace team, have only an outside chance to break into the spotlight this half, having already been defeated in two consecutive games. The only possible opportunity Selbert Greenberger's combine has of annexing the title this second half is by winning the remainder of its four contests while each of the other teams sustains at least three defeats. There is a slight chance for such an outcome but odds are greatly against the first-half titler.

The Electric Furnace, strengthened by the addition of Clyde "Flash" Miller, are expected to put up a real fight against the champions in the half-hour contest. Were the furnace-makers to flash similar form to that which advanced them to a 25-21 victory over the Grove Electrics last week, victory is almost assured for Harry Vogel's lads. This win over

AKRON DEFEATED BY MOUNT UNION

Conference Leaders Take Another Victory As Beach, Cope Star

AKRON, O., Feb. 17.—Mount Union college continued its drive for the Ohio Conference basketball championship, last night, decisively outplaying Akron university to register a 34-23 victory on the Rubber City school's home court.

Mount led throughout the game but Akron was always dangerous until the last five minutes of play. Mount here started pulling away, with Cope and Beach starring, and finished with an 11-point margin.

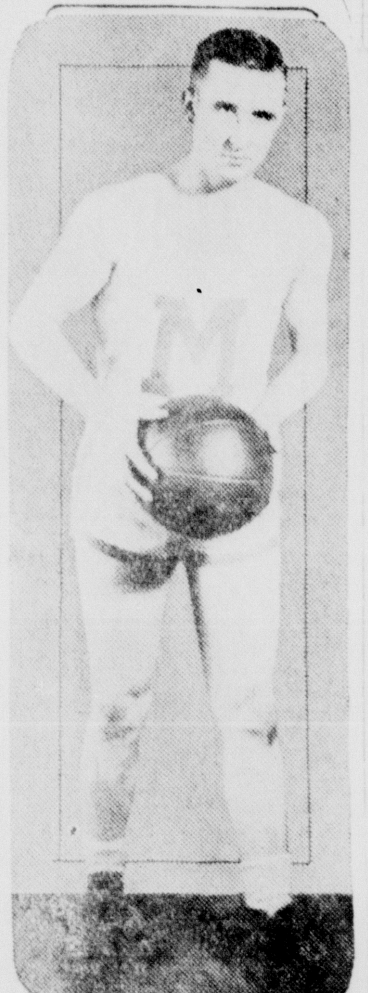

Beach led the Purple's scoring attack by counting six field goals and a foul for 15 points. Grimes, with three fielders and a pair of fouls and Cope, who mapped three baskets from action, were principal figures in their team's victory.

Stars In Win

AKRON, O., Feb. 17.—"A" Beach led the powerful Mount Union college team to another Ohio Conference victory last night, tallying 13 points in the Purple finished on top by a 34-23 margin.

The Grovesmen, the furnace's first in eight starts, was the biggest upset of the season, Grove's team having the week previously decisively annihilated the Golden Eagle, 39-27.

Miller Goes to Furnace
Miller, one of the league's leading scorers the first half, was added to the furnace's roster at the request of Manager Vogel in a meeting of the league board of arbitration Sunday and will take his place in the lineup against the champions for the first time tonight. He will start at a forward with William Bowling with Vogel, Dier or W. Lynn Ferguson guards and Ted Scott at center.

Herman Litty, unable to play with the champions for the past two weeks because of illness, may be back in harness tonight but will not be able to play the full game. The Eagle's most certain lineup appears to be Max Caplan and Joe Kelley forward; Nate Caplan, center, and Les Older and Pete Sanders, guards.

The nightcap is anticipated as the big attraction of the evening, the Florists and Electric being regarded as outstanding contenders for the second half championship. A victory for the former team will go a long way in placing that team in almost direct line with the title and practically eliminated the Grovesmen who, despite the unexpected setback last week, still boast a big chance for laurels. Both aggregations will present their strongest lineups.

Add Class B Star

A new player will take the floor with the Florists in "Jeff" Jeffries, star Class B player who was drafted to fill the place left vacant at Miller's departure to the furnace. Jeffries will probably be used as a reserve player until he obtains necessary experience for Class A competition, the probable Florists' lineup placing Andrea Filip at center; Ted Kirkbride and Morris Ellsworth at guards with George Schmid and Harold Houts at forwards.

The Electric's lineup looms more of an uncertainty with the team having an array of players of almost the same caliber. The starting lineup will be selected from Norman "Bunker" Hill, James Scullion and Paul Fogg, forwards; Wilbur Springer and Bruce Cope, centers, and Evan Jenkins, Walter Harn, Clarence Stinger, guards.

Samuel Watkins, will again officiate with a large crowd being expected as an audience.

CHANGE MADE IN GRIDIRON RULES

Penalties Will Result in Plays After Touchdown To Replace Awarding Of Extra Point

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Except for one minor change, the nation's football rule-makers have decided to let the code alone for at least another year.

After a week-end of discussion at Absecon, N. J., the rules committee announced the only change would be the removal from the code of the arbitrary award or disallowal of the point after touchdown when an offense is called.

Instead, such an offense will be treated just as it would should it occur in any ordinary scrimmage. Hereafter if the defending team is offside it will be penalized half the distance to the goal line and the point tried over. If the attacking team commits the offense, it will be set back five yards and the point tried from the seven yard line.

Savoldi Sends Opponent To Hospital In Ring Debut

(By Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 17.—Jumping Joe Savoldi used the rough and ready tactics he learned as a Notre Dame fullback in his professional wrestling debut and sent his victim, Don DeLong, to a hospital for repairs.

Injured In Body Slams
A cursory inspection in the ring where DeLong lay writhing here last night after going down under two body slams applied by Savoldi in rapid order showed a dislocated shoulder and a bruised jaw.

The 22-year-old Italian, scaling 204 pounds, knocked DeLong a 222-pounder, to the mat three times with reverse headlocks before the match had fairly got under way. DeLong, billed as the French heavyweight champion, picked up Joe and slammed him down head-first. Joe was off his feet momentarily.

GRIMES EXPECTS TO CREATE NEW HURLING RECORD

Minerva Pitcher Predicts He Will Pass Mark Of Grover Alexander

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 17.—Burleigh Grimes himself is authority for the statement the baseball record books a few years hence will have an entry reading something like this: "Most pitching victories, National League, Burleigh Grimes—former record by Grover Cleveland Alexander, 373."

In Good Condition
Ready for his sixteenth consecutive year in the National league and with 312 victories to his credit, the pugnacious old spitballer believes his right arm is still good for "three or four or five" years more, by which time he expects to have won the additional 62 games he needs to break Alex's record.

Grimes has more victories to his credit than any other pitcher now in the majors. His nearest rival is the tall Cincinnati southpaw, Eppa Rixey, who has 251 mound triumphs scattered over a period of eighteen seasons. Rixey, who will be 40 in May, is more than two years older than Grimes. During his 15 years in the National, Burleigh has lost 180 games, giving him 132 more victories than defeats.

Good Year In 1930
If his last season's record is any criterion, Burleigh should be able to put a baseball over the plate and make unkind remarks about opposing batters' ears with some degree of success for quite some time. After winning three and losing five for the Boston Braves, Grimes came to the Cardinals in June and proceeded to win 13 while losing six, for a 16-11 record for the year.

This year Grimes hopes for a much better start and just as good a finish. Jess Joseph, Haines, as old as Burleigh, but with four years less service in the National, and Grimes will start their spring training at Hot Springs, Ark., today.

Green Room Cagers Win Sixth Straight; Outclass Methodists

Schafer's Green Room continued to furnish Salem Class B fans with sensations, winning its sixth consecutive game of the season by outclassing the league-leading First Methodist church five, 32-22, at the Memorial building Monday night.

Defeat Hurt Churchmen
The defeat pulled the Methodists from their place as undisputed leaders of the league into a tie for first place with the Alhousie Studebakers who pulled up to deadlock the league by trimming the J. H. Lease Drugs, 29-12, last night. Both teams have won seven and lost three games.

The Green Room quintet has only an outside chance for the loop championship, having sustained five straight setbacks up to the start of its six-game winning streak. The churchmen held a rather decisive lead over the restaurant live for three quarters in yesterday's battle, being ahead 22-14 at the start of the fourth quarter.

Schafer's Stage Rally
Schafer's five, however, flashed a great scoring attack in the final session, registering 18 points to none for the Methodists to win out by a decisive 10-point margin.

The Studebakers had little difficulty overwhelming the Lease Drugs while the Question Marks had things just as easy in trimming the Salem China, 23-17, in a National league game. The victory placed the Question Marks a full game ahead of the Lutheran Cardinals who were idle.

LETTERS DIFFER ON PROHIBITION

Proposed Convention Develops Varying Opinions

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Feb. 17.—Divergent opinions on the prohibition question were found in three letters received by State Senator L. L. Marshall, (R) of Cleveland, which will be presented to the senate judiciary committee Wednesday night at the hearing of the Marshall resolution petitioning congress to call a national constitutional convention on the problem.

The letters came from U. S. Senator Smith W. Brookhart (R), Iowa; Joseph R. Nutt, Cleveland, treasurer of the Republican national committee, and Henry W. Anderson, Richmond, W. Va., member of the Wickersham commission.

Refuses Statement

Anderson, author of the minority report of the Wickersham committee, declined to state his position on the question. He advised the senator that his views were set forth in the report of the Wickersham committee.

Announcing a favorable attitude towards calling a national convention Nutt wrote "I hope it will be passed. Your plan takes the liquor question out of politics as it should be, and gives all the people a chance to express themselves. You have mapped out the right course to follow."

No Confidence in Convention

Senator Brookhart took the opposite view stating that "I have no confidence in the convention. It never has represented the voice of the people, and I think never will."

The proposal will have its first hearing before the judiciary committee of the state senate tomorrow night at which a number of prominent Ohioans are expected to testify.

"Owa-Ton-Na Real Opportunity for Discouraged Sufferers," Says Mrs. Flanagan

MRS. MECIE FLANAGAN

Of particular interest to similar sufferers is the case of Mrs. Mecie Flanagan, Jefferson street, Newell, W. Va., who has tried many remedies for the relief of her disorders with but very little results. She says, "It would be hard for me to say just how many different things I have tried since I have been ailing. It almost seems as though I had been taking medicines all my life. Terrible gas and bloating spells with which I suffered sometimes made me feel that I couldn't bear them."

Case after case reports similar good results from the use of this fine old Indian remedy. You, too, may find Owa-Ton-Na just the remedy you have been looking for. A trial bottle will convince you and it is certainly worth that to anyone who is suffering. Owa-Ton-Na is sold in Salem at the J. H. Lease Drug Co. and Broadway Lease stores. —Adv.

"NEW MOON"

At The Grand

Lawrence Tibbett, Grace Moore and Adolphe Menjou share honors in "New Moon," the new musical drama which is being presented at the Grand theater tonight and Wednesday. As an added attraction, "Tompkins' Oklahoma cow-punchers" appear on the stage in a medley of songs and ballads taken from western ranges.

Tibbett is cast as a lieutenant in the army of a mythical country with Miss Moore playing the part of a princess. Menjou is the "heavy," acting the role of the governor who seeks the girl for himself and sends Tibbett out on a mission in which death is almost the certain outcome.

Songs by Miss Moore and Tibbett furnish the great events of the drama while romance and adventure are interwoven into the plot with finesse. As to all screen dramas, everything turns out according to the desires of the audience, the picture coming to a dramatic close with Tibbett singing the popular song, "Lover Come Back to Me."

The cowpunchers furnish a variety of entertainment but it is the picture "New Moon" which is the big attraction.

"HER WEDDING NIGHT"

At The State

"Her Wedding Night," the fast and funny Avery Hopwood farce which is now playing at the State theater, might have been written expressly for Clara Bow, for in it, the red-haired star has a role that fits her personality and talents to a "T."

Clara Bow's youthful, light-hearted appeal is at its best in farce comedy of this kind, into which not a moment of real serious drama enters. Clara, on her flight to the south of France is mistaken for an eloping bride. Skeets Gallagher, traveling under an assumed name to help out his friend Ralph Forbes, a popular song writer, is mistaken for an eloping bridegroom. Before either of them knows what is happening, they are married, and in reality Clara is wedded to the song writer—a man she has never met.

When Clara and Forbes meet each other as man and wife, things start to happen. Charlie Ruggles, the incomparable comedian, complicates every situation. But this strange marriage, which seems headed for the Parisian divorce court introduces a Venetian honeymoon.
